SCIENTIFIC INFORMATION

Target audience

Surgeon, nurse, physiotherapist, medical radiology technician, neurophysiopathology technician, social health operator.

Purpose of the course

The Course aims to increase and/or improve the specific knowledge and skills of professionals who are dedicated to the care of the vertebral patient with attention to the quality and safety of the surgical treatment that is confronted with the new technologies and the new skills of the multidisciplinary team in this sector of activity.

Specific training objectives

- Sharing terminology and meaning of quality and safety.
- Communicating innovations on the quality and safety of clinical and surgical pathways.
- Promoting the quality and safety of care and clinical performance in the surgical pathways of the vertebral patient.
- Communicating the contributions of the professional team to generate quality and safety in the operating room.

Expected results

At the end of the event participants will be able:

- to recognize and measure clinical risk;
- to recognize and differentiate the clinical pathways in the various areas of spinal surgery indicated in the general training objectives;
- to improve the performance of care services in the operating room and on the wards;
- to indicate the solutions for the change of the clinical practice through the contributions and experiences of the professionals' team in this sector of activity.

Best Practices

The surgical instruments and medical devices that are going to be used during the "Best Practice" practical session are to be considered indispensable for the training and direct execution by the event participants.

The practical session is an integral and fundamental part of the course, without which it would not be possible to fully acquire the theoretical notions covered in the plenary room during the day's scientific work.

My Meeting ECM Provider and the Tutors designated for Best Practice have the responsibility to verify that all the logos and names of the device manufacturers are obscured, to guarantee neutral, fair training not influenced by any commercial interest.

Official language

The official language of the meeting is both Italian and English without simultaneous translation.

Rules for speakers/panelists/lectures/communicators

You need to provide a mandatory signed COI declaration.

The speech is subject to CME accreditation, therefore, we request compliance with the following rules:

- the teaching activity shall be objective, balanced and not influenced by direct or indirect interests of stakeholders with commercial interest;
- the supervisor/teacher shall not include in the activity any teaching advertising of any kind for specific products of medical interest, shall indicate only generic names of drugs, instruments, principals and not their trade names, even if related to the subject matter;
- the supervisor/teacher shall not project images covered by copyright, identifying images of drugs or equipment and images that can violate patient privacy;

- the speaker/teacher must communicate to the participants, before the beginning of his relationship/teaching, any sources of financing or relationships with subjects with commercial interests in the health sector, as declared in the appropriate self-certification.

Audiovisual equipment

16:9 projection will be provided. Speakers are kindly requested to contact the AV technician located inside the meeting hall well in advance.

The use of personal laptop (Mac/PC) is highly recommended, remind own adaptor for Mac device.

The presentation will be forwarded through Local Area Network (LAN) directly to the Video Projector.

Each Speaker shall collect their technical material at the end of the session or, at the latest, at the end of the day. The Organizing Secretariat is not responsible for any lost of audio-visual material not collected or left unattended.

Remember to adhere strictly to the time allotted for each presentation.

Attendance certificate

At the end of the Congress an attendance certificate will be given to all registered participants.

Variations

The Scientific and the Organizing Secretariats reserve the right to make any change to the program they deem necessary for scientific and/or technical reasons.
